Why did I start Forex Trading?

I Began the forex trading journey in college, with poor attention at first, I did not focus on it because my faith was on what I came for at the college at the time, I was working towards my diploma in Legal Secretary. After college I decided to focus on trading more trying to mitigate my career.

What made me change my career is growing up, I did not have much, I wanted to make money and a lot of money, jobs were not optional. Between me and you I developed more focus the day I made R10 000 from Nasdaq within hours that when I saw the potential for the market profit, and it was my first time.

PSYCHOLOGY OF TRADING ACCORDING TO MASHAYA

I think it particularly important for me to begin with this subject and not just throw bunch of charts on the first page. Well, I have designed this little booklet in a way that even a baby who can read will understand, adapt, and apply what they have learned in the live markets, and I know you too may not get it at first, I give you the right to repeat it as many times as possible, the words and instructions will not change.

With the four years' experience I believe there is something unique I can teach you about the financial markets, I had bad days and good days with the market, but I am still here, the question you should be asking is "How?" not "Why?" problems are the solution to most problems. What do I mean you may ask; in order for you to find a solution to your recent problem it will present itself as a challenge, in other words solutions are problems in disguised, if you eventually had your way up to profitability, there is a possibility you will not be reading this book right now or rather trying to prove and validate it soundness if the information shared is real and relevant. Before you ask where am I going with this? or did you buy the correct booklet, let get to work.

Let me put it this way, if I were given an opportunity to speak publicly about the psychology of trading, this is exactly what I would say.

Forex (Foreign) Trading may be a platform of numbers and charts, but it very much influenced by how you personally think, and the beliefs embedded to your mind which form habits overtime and few times of practice it becomes permanent, do not lose it yet stay with me. The First thing that I am bringing to your attention is BELIEFS, from the day you decided to focus on trading you groomed yourself with people which in your capacity assumed they have good knowledge and the necessary information that you seek.

So now from reading here, your mind automatically challenges the instruction in this book, with the information that you received earlier on to validate it. The big challenge is, it will take some time for the information you have to be replaced by what I aim to teach you here, and if you fail to practice the new information it means you are ignorant person and you need to work on that also. So, the first challenge is belief, followed by habit, you have heard many times being told that when you practice you become perfect, right? But many are not perfect, practice makes permanent just like I mentioned earlier on.

The more you practice the wrong information the more fixed it becomes to your mind and often the correct thing sounds wrong to you, how have all those strategies you have learnt, indicators and robots help you and you have been hooked in the habit of chasing for the next big thing or the holy grail, something to press or install then boom profitability if it were that easy everybody would do it, by that I am not saying it difficult either.

Now repeating the same solution and get the same wrong results leads to introspection, that is where you think there is something wrong with you or you tell yourself this is not for me.

Well, you are not I can tell you that, how do I know? you read up to this line didn't you, and that means you are determined person and right now I can give you the guarantee that you are on the right path to consistent stable mindset. Is that it about psychology? you may ask. Once again stop thinking in your old ways regarding the forex market.

Let get to the next thing LACK OF KNOWLEDGE, having knowledge of nothing results in getting bad results of the actual you wanted, the reason most traders are not winning is because they apply the wrong information not only information but at times you will find that it accurate information being applied in the wrong time, sometimes at the right time but wrong market, so this alone proves to you that there's accurate information and specific things about the market which need to be understood. The effort to employ the incorrect information in the market result to insanity (doing the same wrong thing and expecting different results). For a solution I have organized facts and straightforward steps in this booklet to help you learn it upon yourself to practice and make it permanent upon yourself.

ANGER. how come you have been practicing the inaccurate information and when you do not get the actual results, you get angry, so you want to force the erroneous information to change and correct itself rather than just changing the information and gain a whole new perspective. Too much losing leads to aggressiveness and depression even though people might undermine this, but its true, others substitute with some substance to keep themselves stable and back to the mood. It is a tough emotional business because often time it a pain you cannot explain to other people, whether family and friends and the reason being there is no one to relate the pain to, I have been there I know how it feels that is why I want your pain to stop if you have never been there, I do not wish for you to even get to that point, as you are reading this booklet you are the most luckiest person in the world trust me, once you follow the strategy perfectly in the next pages I wish for you to develop the passion for trading and once you do that fear will die and you gain confidence in your business.

Speaking of CONFIDENCE, too much wining leads to OVER – CONFIDENCE which leads to GREEDINESS, yep excessively big words all right. Maybe your problem is not on the technical part of trading you fully understand and you have gained the confidence required but you adding to much spice on your entries which results to over leveraging your account and sudden losses of the account regardless of the confidence you have on your set ups, always stick to your trading plan, because the plan is to win consistently overtime not just today or tomorrow but overtime permanently, I am not saying you should have this booklet on hands every day, you can read twice and fully understand practice a few times get it right, you will be good to trade live markets.

The solution to you regarding the over confidence and greediness is a trading plan, all your objectives perfectly planed out and you just following the same routine remember if you do not plan your trades you plan to lose the account.

Do not let FEAR kill your consistency although there is no permanent solution to defeating fear. In my experience I have become fearful when I took a trade if I was lazy to analyze the market I just browsed and executed fear strikes.

The Importance of understanding market structure

Market structure acts as a guide for understanding upward, downward, and sideways trends. The same principles can be used in any type of market, from stocks, futures, forex, and commodities, to digital assets like cryptocurrencies.

LH stands for Lower High, think of it as the market walking down the stairs.

LL Means Lower Low, it the bottom vertex.

HH stands for Higher High think of it as market going up stairs.

HL stands for Higher Low

For your understanding, when the charts or graph is going up it will be creating HH & LH and when the market is going down or dropping expect to see LH & LL.

Go onto your charts and do the marking, practice makes permanent.

- This price action will appear between 09h00 to 11h00 Am, again at 14h00 to 16h00 & 18h00 to 20h00.
- Set your Alarm 09h00, 14h00 & 18h00, label Market will create a HH & HL or LL & LH.

HOW DOES MASHAYA ANALYZE?

I always begin my analysis on Top – Down Style. I always start from the daily Time Frame and analyze.

Let me elaborate, these are the Time Frames

M1 – 1 Minute

M5 – 5 Minutes

M15 –15 Minutes

H1 – 1 Hour

H4 – 4 Hours

D1- Day

W1 – Weekly

M1 - Monthly

Hope you understand now, M is for Minutes, H is for Hour, D for Day, W for weekly, and M for Monthly.

Therefore, when I analyze I start from the daily Time Frame down to M15/M5.

Let's check at price from Daily to Lower Time Frame.

TRADING SESSIONS

Most traders are aware of the trading sessions namely Asian, London, & New York Session. To what I have noticed they take these for granted or general the way you trade can make few specific things invisible because traders focus on how they learned in the beginning unless this is your first time learning how to trade, I can guarantee you the confident profitability.

The utmost vital part in trading is time, Time is money, right? So, this put attention to focus most on the clock because that where your money is. Before you say I am wasting your money let me illustrate what I am talking about. Remember all these sessions have their specific times they open from, and these are three different countries where the centrals of trading are based as Asian, London, and New York market. Naturally when it's morning in the United Kingdom it is night in London and in New York continuous, what I mean is 8AM in Asia is not 8AM in New York their business time is not the same therefore the development of the 714 Method these are the market opening times in each market SAST, 7AM, 1PM & 4PM. After you have been disclosed to this specification now the next part is the market pattern, which patterns form in the market around these given times daily? According to my research and back testing I have come to notice or realize that.

- If the market goes down from the opening hour, it will rise,
- If the market goes up from the opening hour, it will drop.

I now share this knowledge with you because you were kind enough to trust me, my work, and my record. This is the biggest secret or realization I stumbled upon, and it changed my perception regarding the market and repeating of the same price action activity everyday made me more confident in my discoveries.

What is the 714 Method?

The 714 Method is a study of specific price action that happens every day as nature of the market, the study is based on time and price. It has been proven with evidence, the market is specific and perfectly balanced it is not a series of random price action. The market was never designed to be analysed, using supporting indicators or even multiple strategies because its simple price based on time and everyday activities happening only in three countries which control the entire markets system, they too know this or not, but I have stumbled onto the most proof

So here I will depict exactly how the market behaves the most common pattern for you to focus on based on the given specific time.

- 1) For this example, I am using XM Global Platform
- 2) What I want you to notice is, price action from the hour 7AM 1PM & 4PM.
- 3) Set your alarm for these specific times, now let say it's 7AM and price drops, expect it to rise later, the drop will not go beyond fifty pips same goes as for when the price goes up.
- 4) You buy at the Order Block or Imbalance.
- 5) NOTE: if the market is bullish, it will create HH & LH.
- 6) If the market is bearish, it will create a LL & HL.

TASK:

- 7) Practice this on your chart do the follow up and check the previous price action.

EXECUTION

Use the M5 Time Frame.

From the specified hour, wait for the 15th candlestick, which is going to be an hour 15 minutes

Always place your trades on the 15th candlestick.

Execution times: 08h15

THE BREAK DOWN OF THE SET UP

What do I look for in a set up? or what makes my set up?

Before execution this is where I start in my analysis, and I want you to follow exactly what I tell you and follow the steps.

Step 1

Identify the market structure.

Check the chart to identify if it has changed direction to bearish or bullish or vice versa.

There will always be a Bullish or Bearish Market

- 1) This is the outline structure of a bullish market.
- 2) The Vertical line that is the opening session for London.
- 3) From where I drew the horizontal line, that the last Lower High Prior to the Break of structure, by seeing that automatically you should know that the market is about to rise or go bullish.
- 4) The Pattern is Range, A drop that will create a Double Bottom Structure (W Formation) then Bulls take over.
TASK: Practice identifying this structure. Use the M15 & M5 to see it easily.
- 5) Focus should be to look for the exact same pattern.
- 6) Remember when the Dollar is Bullish all foreign will be bearish.

- 1) This is the Outline Structure of a Bearish Market.
 - 2) The Vertical line that is the opening session for London.
 - 3) From where I drew the horizontal line, that the last Higher Low Prior to the Break of structure, by seeing that automatically you should know that the market is about to drop or Bearish.
 - 4) The Pattern is Range, Rise that will create a Double Top Structure (M Formation) then Bears take over, the market will trend downwards.
- TASK: Practice identifying this structure. Use the M15 & M5 to see it easily.
- 5) Focus should be to look for the exact same pattern.
 - 6) Remember when the Foreign Currency is Bearish the Dollar will be Bullish.

Please Make sure before you move to the next page you fully understand this part here.

These are steps assured to make you consistent profitability so therefore skipping steps will result in not getting the actual result I am leading you to.

Please to see the profit potential of this set ups focus on this alone do not compare with anything else KEEP IT SIMPLE so you can #KeepItBlue.

HOW TO TRADE SYNTHETIC INDICES 714 METHOD

The secret to Trading synthetic lies in the next few lines and its applicable lifetime as stated on the cover page "permanent solution to lifetime trading". I am about to disclose specific things I have uncovered about the synthetic markets. What I have realized about the synthetic indices is that the operating time is different. The pairs move in a unique way, it very specific.

Just like the 7 – 1 – 4 hours.

7h00 AM is 9h00 AM in SAST.

9h00 AM is 11h00

13h00 PM is 15h00

16h00 PM is 18h00

18h00 PM is 20h00

You must set your alarm for 09h00, 11h00, 15h00, 18h00, & 20h00.

The market will react the same way as the other markets, when it depreciates from the hour expect it to rise in the next hours, when it appreciates from the alarm hour expect it to rise in the next hours. It the same patterns but delayed time. As you can see from the extract of how price action behaves from these specific times.

What I have learned about Boom & Crash, is that Boom will often spike at the specific hour or within 15 Minutes range and crash vice versa. If you visit your charts and test this to collect more evidence and experience. The fastest way you will learn and gain experience from this booklet if you read it on a perspective to prove the content wrong.

Observe how the market will often give a spike at these very specific points of time, the importance of understanding this is, you know when to collect your cash. You do not have to spend several hours looking at the market, analyzing and contradicting yourself.

all you must do is execute your orders on the last minute before the hour, just like trading fundamentals on the currency markets and the benefit is there is no manipulation and spread here, just collecting profits. The 714 Method is the best trading strategy ever, look at the now on the crash markets. The probability is on your favor.

Trade Management.

This is the weakness for most traders or the lesson that is always left unattended lucky you have this booklet you need to worry less.

You may ask why trade management is important? well to answer that question managing your trades after entry or running is of utmost importance. There is no holy grail in the market that after you have made your execution the market will run to your target, that could be what you expect and want to see no doubt, but trade management will assist in terms of failed set ups you will be able to manage your risk also to maintain your consistency.

Once the trade is running here what you do:

- When the market had moved twenty pips from the entry, Move your Stop Loss to Entry price / Break Even.
- If you had more than one trade running, take partial profit at 30 pips move.
- For the remaining portion Move your stop loss to 20 pips lock.
- Hold till take profit hit.
- If the market reverses and hit your stop loss you will not lose anything or much it will be like a missed trade.
- Simply study the price action for future purposes.
- According to the set ups which shared above these are fifty pips set ups therefore I would advise to collapse the trade at 50 pips and wait for another set up.

Where are opportunities in the market?

It is best you know where opportunities lie in the market, so you do not spend time wondering around, yes, I have given you the taste of specific time times of the market now you know the when,

Did you know that there are always opportunities to buy below Yesterday's Lowest price or last week lowest price and selling opportunities to sell above yesterday's high price or last week's highest price? If you did not know, now you do pay attention to those price levels, there is always beautiful one hundred pips worth set ups around there. Let me show you some examples so we remain on the same page.

So here is how the price action will be, market will go below previous week's low then reverse and run through the previous weeks high, do not take my word for it do the practice.

see the below depiction of the market running through last week's highest price then drops, trust me this will always happen, with sufficient practice you will know when it will and most importantly you must master it once and repeat often. I Challenge you to prove me wrong by going into the market and now finding these my contacts are below.

Focus, do not be too excited yet be consistent, always approach the market on the same perspective.

Now, this is a daily Time Frame chart. The horizontal black line is drawn on the high of the previous day, I want you to pay attention how price always goes higher then reverse for one hundred pips or more.

Let get to a lower time and look closer to really happens.

See price action, think of it this way the market will create a high price on Monday, goes higher on Tuesday then fails to go higher on Wednesday, it will not be always these days that where the work is , no no no it not a "head and shoulder pattern", do not go back into your old ways of thinking that is not how I would advise you to explain this remember in the psychology chapter go back and read before you lose it again. Here is your takeaway from this market will always repeat itself in this manner and this is where you will find most high probability set ups and bank that one hundred pips and triple your account

#keepitblue

How to get specific Entry price?

Still with me, now do you know that the market gives you buying or selling price at an earlier stage before price moves for buy or sell, here a thing you must know the entry criteria as shown to you in the top pages, once you see what I am about to show you here you must look for the set ups around the price it must come together.

This illustrated candlestick represents price action. The green candle is for bullish market, the candle opens from the bottom closes on the top, as the shaded body all the annotations have prices on the actual charts. The orange-colored represents a bearish market, the reaction is open high of the bar and closes below, the black lines on top and below that the lowest and highest prices offered for the period, now that you understand this my next demonstration will be easier.

now once you see that the market has changed market structure to the upside, the last bullish candlesticks offer the correct buying price that the market giving the exact entry price twice, when you analyze frame your analysis with this action in mind. It will happen again this year trust me.

As so the sell price this is how it goes, mind you this is not limited to any Time

Frame,
you need to find the one that suits your comforta bility.
Once you have all this together you will understan d what I meant and once you reach that “aha” moment you will never go back. Take your time in back testing this make it permanent in your mind you will not have to practice.

This is one of the best specific perspectives of the market that shows when in the future the market will sell from.

you get it now, go practice. Congratulations now you can make specific predictions, now you know price is not just random series of price action.

Risk Management

You need to understand that this is not a get rich quick scheme business, chances just like the lottery there are possibilities and changes of such but personally I would advise you not to gamble in trading not unless you have a lot of money, and even so you can still lose it all because the possibility of gambling is you can make a lot or lose it all instantly, trust me I know what I am talking about and doing my best to make sure you do not go through the same unnecessary action. Greed is a biggest player in this part as mentioned earlier on, Greed is the longing of actual results instantly. Understand your target and follow the steps to attain it and one of the major leads to greediness is peer pressure, following all those traders online and seeing their results leads to the urge of getting the same results, to control this impact assure to unfollow most traders and just focus on your own work you already have inspiration and aspiration to get it done this booklet is the first step to reaching that goal it is a remedy for continuous losses. If you want to prove me wrong do everything by this book and inbox me in 2 months' time.

Below I have attached a Table of which I entrust to you to respect to achieve your goals, know this, there is a particular way of doing things to get the result you want, and the best thing is you do not have to start all over again or try and figure it out. Did the work easier for you just as you want it, remember KEEP IT SIMPLE #KeepItBlue

Respect your account and apply management as instructed take this and put it to action. Be the judge

Account Size $/R	Lot Size	No. of Trades
100	0.01	1
200	0.02	1
300	0.03	1
400	0.04	1
500	0.05	1
600	0.06	1
700	0.07	1
800	0.08	1
900	0.09	1
1000	0.10	1

Additional Notes

The idea and thoughts of success is common for everyone we want the same things. And there is a unique way of doing things and getting those results a practical solution that is realistic for everyone.

WINNING

Must be honest with you as a trader and between me and you making profit is very good, one win surpasses all the consecutive losses you have gotten in the previous trades, and to keep that motive consistent make sure you pay careful attention to your wins, focus more on the set ups that makes you win. Because you only must win once then repeat continuously.

RISK MANAGEMT

It is true it will take you longer to reach your dreams with a smaller lot size than a bigger one. Why not gamble? Sometimes you can be a good trader but making small consistent wins which add to nothing, my advice will be honest one if you trust the set up and you have gained confident on it just go all in make your money if you lose at least it was worth the short but I doubt, the worst that could happen is putting many trades and suffer the call margin, and I have made most in my greedy moments because really you will never fund a bigger account you may be starting from a bottom maybe that one trade may put you ahead, if the experience and the confidence is there go All In.

STRATERGY

In most cases on social media post you will see mentors talk about secret strategies in particular assets, like secret strategy for Nasdaq, US30, gold etc.

But the fact is the market is ONE if you fully understand the perspective of the market at that time, the strategy pattern will always repeat on all markets could be SYNTHETIC, METALS, COMMODITIES, INDICES OR CURRENCIES. If someone is trying to sell you specific assets strategy, they are creating a loophole to charge you for the next one too.

No Guessing Games!

Trust me there are specific things you have never heard of, remember I told you price action is not random, and it controlled and there is no big guys at the back pressing buttons, if you simply understand how the market works. you will not be a surprise to you because you will have already caught the move. I really, I hope I do not sound boasting about my experience, but I just want you to see these things I am talking about, what I will teach you now will blow your mind. Ready?

Next time when you are about to execute a trade make sure that the price and time is correct, use these times for the best accurate results and minimum risk.

1. On your charts Mark 21h00 and 03h00 South African Standard Time (SAST). Draw vertical line on this period for clear attention, use M5 Time Frame.
2. Shade the area using the necessary tool.
3. Draw a horizontal line from the high of the range, Middle and low of the range extended out.
4. These will be your execution prices; your entry analysis will play exactly in these prices for sell or buy.
5. Whichever price you enter on the other will be your stop loss or half of that ranger for the bottom or high price.

On the next example I will show the correlation with the marking of the 7- 1- 4 hours observe how price reacted on those specific prices, remember as mentioned earlier when price drop after 7 am it is giving you a signal for the direction for the day, follow the entry criteria and you will always have a trade to take, look for the exact same thing I pointed out, the structure may not be exactly as given here, the perception is what important. See the opening price at 1pm became the extremely specific price for that run and again at 4pm.

Here is another vivid example of a bearish trend entry, just focus on the relation between price and time Challenge you to go to your charts and prove me wrong.
